Think and share about a time ...

... when you felt happy. About what were feeling happy, and how did you share your happiness?

... when you felt sad and someone helped you feel better.

... when you felt scared and someone really listened to you and helped calm your fears.

... when you felt angry, and made good choices.

... when you felt excited. About what were you feeling excited, and how did you express your excitement?

... when you felt embarrassed. How did you deal with your embarrassment?

... when you felt surprised. About what were you surprised? Was it a happy surprise for you, or not?

... when you felt confident. About what were you feeling confident, and what added to your feeling of confidence?

... when you felt frustrated. About what were you feeling frustrated, and how did you deal with your frustration?

... when you felt grateful. For what were you grateful, and how did you express your gratitude?

... when you felt peaceful. What did you do to share that peaceful feeling with others

... when you felt proud. About what were you feeling proud?

SUGGESTION: Add additional Think and Share Invitations to include even more feelings words, perhaps with students' input. As a potential springboard for considering additions, you may wish to tap into this resource: List of 353 Feelings Words: 2 p. format
